

JOSHUA NICHOLS, ASSOC. AIA

MANNING, APC

Inspired by the design possibilities afforded by digital applications, Joshua Nichols leans in to current and emerging technologies. His experience with 3D scanning and digital modeling has been valuable in a range of contexts, including facility assessments, enhancing accuracy in construction documents, and heightening the client's ability to experience designs. With advanced proficiency with computer programs that bring designs to life, he adds value to each project through his expertise and ongoing curiosity. Joshua's dedication to thoroughness and clear documentation in the field has greatly assisted our clients in the construction phase.
